One day every dog will be a happy dog Rehoming abused and abandoned dogs

In the UK, estimates suggest there are over 7 million dogs. Whilst most are cared for by their adopted owners, some people abuse the loyalty and trust freely given by 'mans best friend'. Abandoned and abused, some dogs are victims to the darker side of human nature, sadly believing that this is how life with a human is. Thanks to Happy Dogs, many dogs are saved from a life of distress and abuse and given the love, attention and home that every dog deserves. Happy Dogs is a registered charity our aims are to:-

- Aid animals and dogs in distress through injury or any other cause, and to arrange veterinary treatment where necessary;
- Find good and suitable new homes for dogs in our care or that come to our attention;
- Provide assistance to members of the public by means of information, education or in any way whatsoever that will enable them to directly aid animals needing treatment or help.
